Nestled in the middle of a charming quaint village, Eden Valley is a tiny nature preserve enveloped in the silence of tropical forests and rubber plantations on the shores of a Lake and Hills surrounding it. A couple of cottages owned by the planters is restored into a beautiful and inviting restaurant and living spaces . An open air cafeteria in one corner gives a 360 degree view of the entire property. A sprawling lawn with rustic wrought iron chairs and lamp posts is an ideal spot to unwind for both the young and old.

Apart from the plantation, Eden Valley is full of tropical fruit bearing trees, shrubs and flowering plants which attracts scores of butterflies and birds. Due to the abundant greenery and the proximity of the Lake, Eden Valley is also a bird sanctuary by itself. The numerous species of birds that can be spotted here are either residents of the valley or of the nearby hills.

A stroll down the pathway leads to the independent cottages overlooking the Lake and hills beyond. The patio of the cottages gives beautiful sight of the calm and serene waters, the patient storks and Kingfishers waiting to prey on the small fish abundant in the Lake, sights of occasional rubber tappers and fishermen taking a chance to catch the big fish in the deep waters.

The cool breeze rushing down the hillocks and creating ripples over the calm waters, touches down the trees to resonate a soft murmur that will soothe your mind and body.

A medium sized pool is carefully embedded into the landscape. A dip in the pool is invigorating and refreshing. The pool is surrounded by tropical trees and plants and has a magnificent view of the whole property.

A thatched multi-purpose function hall and a garden party area with piped music is aesthetically blended into the landscape.
